Sample Sponsor Letter

Dear <Mr. Sample>,

As you know, our organization is serious about providing programs that provide personal growth, motivation and confidence to our members. The <YOUR ORGANIZATION> is proud to provide guest speakers and programs that focus on enriching the lives of others. We are planning to bring in Inspirational Diva Allison Bell to conduct an inspiring and soul stirring self exploration workshop.

We are very excited to bring in an inspirational & motivational education program from a company called Embrace Today Concepts. Embrace Today Concepts provides turnkey programs, workshops, E-books, newsletters and other activities for teens, adults, mentors, and members of various organizations. Embrace Today Concepts' workshop curriculum focuses on improving your inner spirit, self esteem, and serving in your community to gain self worth and confidence.

Allison Bell, President and Inspirational Diva of Embrace Today Concepts, is a Certified Trainer from the Points of Light Institute, the Center for Creative Leadership. This training program is one of the world's foremost authorities on leadership principles that developed an interactive, state-of-the-art curriculum for problem solving and goal setting. The curriculum features a challenging series of lessons and exercises on community needs analysis, project planning, decision making, and other leadership dynamics. This training program provides a caliber of leadership training typically available only to corporate executives and government leaders.
